

ASKING QUESTIONS

HOW TO ASK QUESTIONS WITH THE VERB TO BE

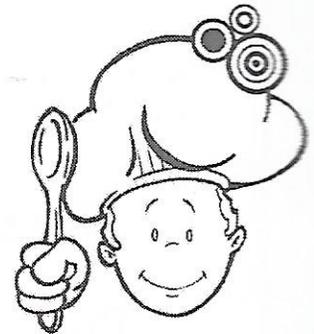

DID YOU KNOW?

We use this structure for yes/no questions with the verb to be:

Verb (V)	Subject (S)	Object (O) – Rest of the question
Am	I	your best friend?
Are	you	good at video games?
Is	he	taller than you?
Is	my sister	funny in class?
Is	it	expensive to buy a Ferrari?
Are	we	going to the restaurant?
Are	they	with you in English class?

1. Answer these questions about your family. Write yes or no.

- a) Are you the first child in your family? no
- b) Is your dad a good cook? yes
- c) Is your mom shorter than you? yes
- d) Are your parents good at alpine skiing? no
- e) Are you a good musician? yes

2. Look at these scrambled lists of words. Unscramble the words, respect the structure explained at the top of the page (V-S-O) and write well-built questions.

- a) faster Mark are than you Are you faster than Mark?
- b) a is good soccer he player Is he a good soccer player?
- c) we dream are beautiful a in Are we in a beautiful dream?
- d) piano she when is happy plays she Is she happy when she plays piano?

3. Invent four yes/no questions: two for yourself and two about other people. Respect the structure explained at the top of the page (V-S-O).

- a) Are you an adult?
- b) Are you excited to go back to school?
- c) Are you learning anything new this week?
- d) Are you going outside every day?

