

Homophones

Review Time

Too	To	Two
Used to show something extra or additional	Used to show direction, motion or a limited point in time.	Used to count.
Example: I want to go too! I wasn't too pleased to hear the bad news.	Example: Are we going to the store?	Example: There were two birds in the cage.

A Rewrite each sentence with the correct homophone. Hint: Not all of the sentences contain an error.

- At one o'clock the to of us need a ride to the mall.
At one o'clock, the two of us need a ride to the mall.
- Could I have a Pepsi two?
Could I have a Pepsi too?
- In January of 2004, I went to Jamaica.
In January of 2004, I went to Jamaica.
- In Montreal, too many people are homeless.
In Montreal, too many people are homeless.
- The movie starts at to o'clock.
The movie starts at two o'clock.

B Write a sentence using each of the following words.

1	To	I need to go to the beach!
2	Two	The two of us are stuck together.
3	Too	I drank too much milk, my stomach hurts.

